A photograph of two women in a collaborative setting. The woman in the foreground is a Black woman with dark hair pulled back, wearing a red top with a white collar. She is looking down and to the right. The woman in the background is a white woman with brown hair pulled back, wearing a blue short-sleeved shirt. She is also looking down and to the right, appearing to be engaged in a task or conversation. The background is slightly blurred, showing what appears to be a classroom or office environment with colorful sticky notes on a wall. The image is overlaid with a semi-transparent blue and orange banner at the bottom, and decorative light blue geometric patterns are visible in the corners.
